Nationally-Acclaimed Political Entertainers,
The Capitol Steps, Return to the Lewis Family Playhouse
Friday, October 24th

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
October 2, 2014

Rancho Cucamonga, California - Lewis Family Playhouse favorite governmental humorists, The Capitol Steps return with a new hilarious political satire in The Capitol Steps – How to Succeed in Congress Without Really Trying, Friday, October 24th at 8:00 p.m. Tickets for Gold Level Seating are priced at $35.00 for General Admission and $33.00 for Seniors. Silver Level Seating is priced at $28.00 for General Admission and Seniors.

Digging into the headlines of the day and just in time for the height of election season, The Capitol Steps have earned a reputation for non-stop laughs as this group who began as a group of Senate staffers set out to satirize the very people and places that employed them. The hilarious comics of The Capitol Steps combine music with political satire poking fun at all sides of the issues, it's the one new thing in Washington sure to earn bipartisan support! No matter who or what is in the headlines, you can bet The Capitol Steps will tackle both sides of the spectrum and all things equally foolish.

Many of the Steps ignored the conventional wisdom ("Don't quit your day job!") and although not all of the current members of the Steps are former Capitol Hill staffers, taken together the performers have worked in a total of 18 Congressional offices and represent 62 years of collective House and Senate staff experience.

Since they began, The Capitol Steps have recorded over 33 albums, including their latest, How to Succeed in Congress Without Really Lying. They have been featured on NBC, CBS, ABC, and PBS, and can be heard two times a year on national public radio stations nationwide during their Politics Takes a Holiday radio specials. Enjoy a hilarious evening of political satire as the nationally-acclaimed Capitol Steps sets out to put the "mock" in democracy!
